

CHAPTER – 1

Introduction

The Right to Information Act, 2005, formulated and approved by the Government of India on 21st June 2005, provides for setting out the practical regime of right to information for citizens to secure access to information under the control of public authorities, in order to promote transparency and accountability in the working of every public authority.

The Directorate of Survey and Land Records has brought out this handbook for the general public, who seek information about the assignment of free house sites pattas, granting of housing subsidy, demarcation of property, issue of settlement extracts, issue of certified copies of FMB / village/taluk/region maps. The procedure followed by each activity, powers of the officers and the decision making process for that activity has been elaborated in this handbook. Further the budget allocation for the plan schemes is given in this book. To keep the transparency, various subsidy schemes operated in this Directorate are detailed in the ensuing chapters.

The Director of Survey and Land Records (Assistant Public Information Officer), Pondicherry may be contacted for further current information.
